There were several deaths at camp Joe Williams yesterday. Among the new cases is the Mother Superior at La Salette. The death roll includes Fathers Martin, Walsh and McGarvey. Fathers Maher and Bokel are in a dy-ing condition. Many deaths are reported from the adjacent country, among them G. Ryan, a merchant of this city. GALVESTON, August 30.—The Board of Health quarantined against all ports on the east coast between Sabine pass and Pensacola. It declined to permit the steamships Morgan City, New York and Western Texas to come into port.
No fever is reported in Texas.
The wet, cool weather has doubtless created many new cases, but how many it is impossible to say, as only two physicians have yet reported.

The death rate, however, will equal if not exceed yesterday's, when 78 interments were reported. Up to moon to-day the undertakers report 46 yellow fever interments. Fathers Bokel and Meagher are dead. Two Fathers and two Brothers at the Francisch Monastery are down also. ciscan Monastery are down, also Rev. Dr. Thomas, pastor of the Free German Protestant church. A Noble Man Gone to His Rest-Carolina's Loss--Tribute to The Memory of the Honored Dead.

Correspondence of the News. WILMINGTON, August 29. Gloom and sadness, almost unexampled here, have overspread our city for the past few days. It is caused by the dangerous illness and melancholy death at Williamsport, Pa., of our most useful and influential citizen, Captain Isaac B. Grainger. His remains reached here yesterday morning, and were followed to the grave last evening by the largest and saddest funeral procession ever known in Wilmington. No better ey-idence could be given of the immense vine denies the statement that Servia is assisting or encouraging the popularity and great usefulness of this remarkable man than the sorrow that pervades all classes and the thronging crowds that attended the ceremonies at St. John's yesterday, and followed, with hearts of grief, his remains to the beautiful cemetery of this city.

Called north as President of the Bank of New Hanover, he was taken sick with bilious fever, at Williamsport, and died there, after a very short illness, on Monday last. No doubt he carried with him from here in his system the malaria that developed the fever, and it was more severe, of course, because of his transition, at this season, to a northern climate; it being an established fact in medicine that southerners going from a malarious section at this malarious season, to a more distant and non-malarious climate are more liable to malarious fever and to a higher grade of it than if they had remained at home. He had prompt medical atterdance there, and telegraphed for more medical assistance from that highly accomplished medical gentleman and skillful practitioner of our city, Dr. William George Thomas, but before he could reach his bed side, the vital spark had fled. It is not to be supposed that northern physicians, living in a nonmalaria, and inexperienced in the character and proper treatment of malarious diseases, and of bilious fever, are as competent to manage these diseases as are our own southern physicians, familiar with them. There was no better business man in the State than Capt. Grainger, young man though he was. Success followed every enterprise in which he engaged, and whatever busi-ness he undertook. He was one of those bold, original, self-reliant, and self-made men that stamp them-He managed, with consummate skill, establishments, turning them all to and Representatives. successful results, than any man here ever managed. Of course a man of his superior mind and great independence ever full of practical sympathy for the poor, the suffering, and the distressed. And then he dispensed his charities with delicate hands and noiseless steps. Well can it be said of Capt. Grainger, "Him we all mourn, his friends still heave" the sigh, And still the tear stands trembling in the eye,

His was each mild, each amiable art,
The gentlest manners and the feeling heart,
Fair, simple truth, benevolence to all,
A generous warmth that glowed at friendship's call."

Truly has Wilmington been afflicted of late in the loss, by death, of her best men and most useful citizens, Within a less period than eighteen months, four of her brightest jewels and most prominent men—Robert Strange, Adam Empie, William A. Wright, and Isaac B. Grainger—have been taken from us by the insatiate archer, and our loss is irreparable. We will enshrine in our hearts the fond and lasting memory of their useful lives and ennobling manhood. Their high motives, patriotic services, and manly bearing, will be lights to our feet and lamps to our pathway. While we invoke their spirits to aid us where responsibilities are to be assured and duties discharged, we will also teach our children to honor their memories, and to imitate their virtues.

State Banks.

Correspondence of the News. NEWBERN, August 26. From the various communications and comments which have appeared in our papers, it seems to be the universal opinion, that the only means we have of relieving the present financial distress, is in the re-establishment of State Banks. It is only through them that the volume of currency can be increased, the means of borrowing money made more easy, and the rate of interest re-duced. Such being the case, is it not well worth making an effort to 1e-establish them?

The great impediment in the way is a United States tax of 10 per cent on their circulation .- This tax is unjust. and injurious to the best interests of the country. It is unjust, because it discountry. It is unjust, because it discriminates in the interest of a few, and against the interest of the masses of the people. It is unjust, because it creates monopolies which should not exist. It is unjust, because it allows the National Banks to charge 18 per cent interest, while others can only take 8 per cent. It is injurious, because it prevents competition, if allowed, would enable money to be obtained for at lease one-half the rates now charged.

THE HOWARD ASSOCIATION.

Sketch of this Noble Society of the South.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Many persons who read the newspapers often inquire what the Howard Association is? They read of the work done by the brave men who are its members, and many are the speculations as to who they are, etc. The receipt of the Subjoined note prompted a reporter of the Courier-Journal to inquire into the history of the Howards, and the result of his investigation is given below. The note reads:

Income of the Queen was £385,000, or about $1,925,000 per annum, but that she did not spend one-half of it, notwithstanding the act of Parliament specially stated that £325,000 of this sum own fault and there is only one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Congiven below. The note reads:

(To the Editor of the Courier . Journal.) What is the "Howard Association," the members of which are sacrificing their lives in the plague-intected cities of New Orleans, Memphis, Vicksburg and Grenada? Is it a permanent organization? [Yes.] Are the members paid for their services? [No.] Do similar organizations exist in other cities, waiting for the prevalence of an epidemic to call them into active ser-READER.

During the black days Yellow Jack has been master of the sunny land of the South, everybody has heard of erous children so soon as they reach the age of maturity or marry. The writer in the Mayfair concludes with the remark that this grasping and penuriousness of the Queen "tends to bring the crown into contempt." This is very plain language, and will some day lead to

He will enter upon his duties When it was started, the design was to the week previous to the Fair, and will make it permanent, and this has been Jack and each member, it is said, pledges himself to do everything in his power to resist the plague and to help his suffering fellow-beings. It embraces a large number of philanthropic gentlemen of the number of philanthropic gentlemen of the South, and many whole-souled doctors are enrolled among the list of its members. The real society is confined to New Orleans, and originated there, though other societies bearing the same name have been organized in nearly all the cities which are liable to have the yellow fever. The efforts of the society have been untiring, and have met with much success.

It is almost impossible to calculate the amount of good they have accomplished. Most of their work has been done in New Orleans, Memphis, Vicksburg and Grenada. The members themselves contribute liberally of their time and means to carry out the end of the society. Long may such purely benevolent societies continue to do their good work.

Hon. Joseph J. Davis.

Tarboro Southerner.: We throw up our hat this week in soul-deep laudation over the renomina-tion of "Honest Jo Davis" for Congress in the Fourth or Metropolitan

He has worn the honors so worthily for two terms that his mantle could have fallen on no better man. From a long personal acquaintance with Mr. Davis we are prepared to say there is no purer man in the State. Absolutely free from guile, frank and dutiful, his personal magnetism attracts friend and foe into confiding, implicit trust. He is wanting in no particular or element that enters into the composition of an able moral statesman. His career of usefulness is but begun. Though having served only two terms, the stand he has taken in Congress is second to none. Some of the most powerful speeches delivered on the floor of the House were made by him.

How Spurgeon Looks.

Mr. Spurgeon has changed greatly in the past twenty years in the opinion of a tourist, who describes him as having become broad and thickset; a heavy suit of brown hair, with beard and whiskers surrounding his face, gives him the appearance of an English sea captain rather than that of the most popular clergyman of England. He never had any of the outward semblance of a clergyman, and looks less like it now than ever At first sight one looks upon him with a feeling of disappointment, and asks himself-or more frequently those in the next pew, whether that can possibly be Mr. Spurgeon. He comes on the rostrum for he has no pulpit, and looks more as if he were the sexton arranging the books for the pastor than the great preacher himself."

Stekes Co., Wednesday, September 4th. The Fourth District Platform.

The Wilmington Star, commenting upon the platform of principles laid down by our late District Convention, Justly observes: "Now, this is an excellent platform, it strikes us; broad enough and sound enough for every Southern man to stand upon. This platform contains every plank necessary for North Carolina. Upon it, or one similar to it, the whole South can be solidified, and together with the great Northwest can defeat any hard-money candidate that may be placed in the of the Nation. This paid, will save to field. There is no need of any such to the people $350,000,000 interest anparty in the South as a National or Greenback party. The Democratic party is every way equal to the emergency. At the last Presidential election it showed itself able to elect its President by more than twenty majority in the Electoral College, and by nearly 300,000 majority in the popular vote. and after a square fight upon the great issues then dividing and antagonizing it with the rotten and corrupt and unpatriotic Republican party. It is still very strong. Its virility, its pluck, its endurance, its patriotism, its wisdom and greatness are in undiminished vigor. It has captured the United States Senate, and it will hold the next United States House of Representatives, unless the people are hood winked and deceived and are willing to be chained again to the car of Radicalism."

Yellow Fever Thoughts.

The fearful Southern pestilence shows no signs of abatement. The gloomy report comes from Memphis that Wednesday and Thursday were the worst days since the fever broke out. At Vicksburg it is spreading rapidly, and in New Orleans the totals of each day's sickness and death are mournful indeed. At Grenada, its frightful ravages are only restrained by the lack of material on which to fix its fateful fangs.

There are some thoughts connected with the prevalence of this terrible epidemic which have doubtless suggested themselves to many minds. First, while the disease, in its spread, has spared neither high nor low, it is very evident that its most awful havoc has been made in unclean localities and impure districts. Indeed, it is more than probable that prudent sanitary regulations and a proper disinfection of filthy streets, houses and quarters might have checked the demon in its birth. There is both divine and human wisdom in the Jewish law which put the unclean person without the camp. In England, when a case of virulent fever of any kind occurs, the family, no matter how high their social position, are obliged to submit their premises to a thorough official process of disinfection; the patient is isolated and the disease checked. And as the season is just beginning when malaria of every kind gains ground most rapidly, we-we, who live in fancied security,-should grasp this matter in a practical way. In default of any official means of prevention, in our towns and communities, let our people look carefully to the purgation of their premises and surround-

One of the sad lest commentaries on the depravity of human nature consists in the fact that the misery and suffering caused by the march of the fever-fiend have developed a corresponding increase of crime, principally of theft and drunkenness. It was so during the plague in Florence and it was a characteristic of the dreadful London scourge in the Seventeenth Century. One would suppose that the contemplation of mourning and death would exorcise the spirit of license, lust and evil passion. Such was the result of our observation during the late war. It was seldom, on the eve of battle when leaden death if he will take the precaution of was waiting for its prey, that ing a cabbage leaf in the crown of his hat, the fears of his friends may be one heard the ribald oath or calmed." profane jest. Why the instincts to Thus says the Washington Post. crime or vice should not be subdued in Let Mr. Blaine come. The Democrats philosopher or the student of human nature. Does utter callousness follow and death? This is not so, ordinarily. Or are men, filled with a sense of frightful uncertainty, unable to escape and not brave enough to face the pale mon ster, impelled by the spirit of the rich fool in Holy Writ: "Eat, drink and be merry, for to-morrow we die?"

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET. But there is a bright side to even the saddest and worst things of life. The darkness brings out the stars, and out of the funereal gloom that has enshrouded our sister towns and cities of the South there have sprung beautiful and holy gleams of light. We have spoken, heretofore, of the brave work of good physicians and holy men and of the sublime devotion of ministering angels of charity, in nursing the sick, comforting the dying, and caring for the orphan. The presence of the Destroyer has not only immortalized such heroism as this, but it has, also, stirred to its profoundest depths that "nature which makes all the world akin." It has stifled for a while the spirit of sectional passion. It has brought the ends of our broad country together in one common convergence of sympathetic impulse, and has even moved the hearts of men on the other side of the great ocean which washes our Eastern shores, The generous contributions of the men and women of the North and of our "mother-land" across the sea, to aid our sore-smitten ones, show that the world is not selfish, after all, and constitute a grand holocaust before the altars of our common Humanity. Outside of higher and holier considerations, the lesson of nationality is a great teaching of seasons of calamity. When the waves of fire swept over Portland and Chicago, our hearts and purses opened to the cry of destitution and suffering. It is a fitting and beautiful sequel and counterpart to the history of those days, that Northern sympathies are so nobly responsive to the wail that goes up from our Southern land to-day.

Tom Maginnis is a candidate for Congress in the Newark, (Ohio) District. There has been no such platformist since Tittlebat Titmouse of Tatton, ran for Parliament. His proposal was to give "everybody everything," and here is "Tom's: "Elect me to Congress. I'll do this for you when I get there. You are entitled to one hundred acres of land anyhow. How are you going to get it? 'll tell you how. We will make greenbacks enough to pay the bonded debt to every poor man who desires to go West with his family $1,000 to each of these sons of toil. Thus I provide for 350,000 families yearly. I don't propose to give this as a present, I propose to loan it without interest. If these men can't pay it in five or ten years let them pay it when they are able. Some people say how are you to get these settlers there? You have no assurance that they will go when this money is given them. I'll tell you how. Appoint agents all over the country, one in every county. Make it the duty of these men to purchase railroad tickets for those desiring to start, not transferable. When they reach their destination I would have other agents there to provide for them-build them houses and barns, buy them horses and mules, cows and sheep and hogs-not less than four brood sows for each family. This is what I would do. I'd bring sunlight to millions of my fellow laborers. By making them happy and prosperous I would at the same time be adding untold wealth to the Nation. God blesg me, my dear friends, it is no trouble to

We commend this platform to certain "independents" in this State, who are almost as profuse in their professions as Maginnis. When President Lincoln was assassi nated and Booth leaped upon the stage of Ford's theatre with the exclamation "sic semper tyrannis," some fellow, not grasping the frightful reality, shouted: "He says 'I'm sick-send for Ma ginnis." Let all who are "sick, send for Maginnis!" He has evidently a cureall for social and public ailments.

After months of painful silence,-a silence "that could be felt,"-the ambrosial Conkling has at last spoken, and it is "the same old speech." The burden of his jeromiad is, of course, that the government is passing into the hands of the Democracy, and he predicts all manner of evil as the result. We thank him for the admission and are ready to abide the consequences. By the way, the last time that the New York Senator was heard from was when. in the confidence of private colloquy with the editor of his Syracuse organ, (who went back on him,) he declared that Louisiana was counted fraudulently for Hayes. Now he avers that free elections are not permitted in many of the Southern States! Quere?-Is this a new departure as against the Democracy, or is it a continuation of his attack on the President and the Electoral Commission?

"During the eight years of Grant," says the Nation, "the South was a scene of pillage and carnage relieved by breathing-spells of military government. Since his departure, it has been as peaceful and orderly as any other part of the country, and it presents fewer signs of disturbance to-day than Pennsylvania or California."

"Mr. Blaine having been announced o make some speeches in North Carolina, his friends up north are trying to spread the impression that it will be ersonally unsafe for him to do so. The object is, of course, to enable Mr. Blaine to present himself in his favorite role of Great American Hero at small expense. We might remark that s there are no railroad bonds lying around loose in North Carolina, the only danger that can possibly menace Mr Blaine is the climatic one of possible sunstroke. We therefore observe that the presence of an epidemic that adds to find a torture to dissolution is a question that presents grave reflection for the moral presents grave reflection for the moral courteously treated. As we have here—

> Archbishop Whately wrote a famous book on "Historic Doubts." The witty prleate seized upon the conflicting and irreconcilable statements in print about Napoleon and his wars, to question whether such a man ever lived and did the remarkable things attributed to him. It was a shaft aimed at infidels who reject the four Gospels, because of alleged discrepancies among the narratives and the incredibility of some incidents narrated. Now will not some one write another book to prove that, in view of his present course, Jo. Turner never could have said anything to wound the tenderest sensibilities of Tourgee, Watts, Lassiter, Badger, Harris and Co?

Patterson denies unequivocally the Washington rumor that he had been trying to escape prosecution in South Carolina by offering to resign his seat in the Senate. He also denies that he left Washington to avoid arrest. He has been to Pennsylvania for his health, which had been impaired by the importunities of office-hunters, for whom he could do nothing, because of his unpleasant relations with the Administration. He has no hope of any Republican success whatever in South Carolina this year, but is confident that the Democrats will elect their State, legislative and congressional tickets. So mote it be!

Hon. W. M. Robbins was serenaded n Salisbury, on Tuesday night, and nade an eloquent and telling speech It breathed the right spirit, as might have been expected from Major Robbins. He counselled energy and the co-operation of all true men to defeat the purposes of the Radicals. Mr. Crawford, who has heretofore been announced as an Independent candidate. was also called out, and stated that if a Republican candidate was nominated, he should withdraw from the field, as he would do nothing to endanger the success of Democratic principles.

Jno. Sherman was jeered and insultd, during his late speech at Toledo, by being reminded of his obligations to Mrs. Jenks, of his association with 'Jim'' Anderson, and of his agency in getting up the Eliza Pinkston fraud. Sherman, with his smirched character, an contribute nothing to the discussion of any question which will hav any weight with the people.

I was confined to my house more than a year. Six months of the time I was entirely helpless. I was obliged to have two men help me in and out of bed. I was swollen 19 inches larger than my natural size around my waist. I suffered all a main could and live. I tried all remedies for Dropsy: I had three different doctors. My Irie ad allexpected I would die; many nights I was expected to die betore morning. At last Vegetine was sent me by a Iriend. I never shall forget the first dose. I could realize its good effects from day to day; I was getting better. After I had taken some 5 of 6 bottles I could sleep quite well nights. I began to gain now quite fast. After taking some 10 bottles, I could walk from one part of my room to the other. My appetie was good: the dropsy had at this time disappeared. I kept taking the Vegetine until I regained my usual health. I heard of a great many cures by using Vegetine after I got out and was able to attend to my work. I am a carpenter and builder. I will also say it has cured an aunt of my wife's of Neuralgia, who had suffered for more than 20 years. She says she has not had any neuralgia for eight months. I have given it to one of my children for Canker Humor, it is a g-eat cleanser of the blood; it is safe to give a child. I will recommend it to the world. My father is 80 years old, and he says there is nothing like it to give strength and lite to an aged person. I cannot be too tha kful for the use of it. I am, Very grateful yours.

All DISEASES of The Blood.—If Vegetine will relieve pain; cleanse, purify, and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies and suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Wny is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood rurifier. FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS!

The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and 1 ot an The following is from the Raleigh News, and was a voluntary insertion and 1 of an advertisement:

"Years ago an old Indian left a receipt for curing Scrofula with Mrs. Person's father. Mrs. Person lives at Franklinton, or in that section. A child was born to Mrs. Person, and it had the scrofula. The doctors gave it up to die. She th ught of that receipt, that was now old and musty, and hid away in an upstairs drawer. She concluded if the child was bound to die, it wouldn't hunt to follow that receipt. She went out and gathered the herb, got the whisky, and did as directed to the child. Her child now lives well and hearty. More than this: Only a few months since a South Carollnian, whose name has slipped us, was suffering with some scrofulous affection on the heel. He had been to the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and from there he went to Kittrell Springs. Nothing did him any good. At Kittrell's they told him of Mrs. Person's recipe, and Dr. wrote to Mrs. Person if she cured that South Carolinian her receipt was worth money. And the south Carolinian sent ner word if she cured him he would give her five hundred dollars. She sent him directions what to do, and added it they cured him he could send her twenty-five dollars; she wouldn't ask five hundred. The South Carolinian went home, and shortly after ward sent Mrs. Person a checa for twenty-five dollars, and wrote the most grateful letter ne knew how. Bless those old Indians to We would like to have one for a near neighbor."

Lever Feed Cutter.

Is something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feel s cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a krife is used in cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.

To be Sold, The fine Oleander, donated by Mr M. Rosenbaum, to be sold for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers, will be disposed of to-day, at 11 o'clock. Each bidder will at once pay the amount of his bid, and the highest takes the valuable prize.

News Items.

Daily mail between Halifax and Scotland Neck commences Oct 1. W. H. Shields has been awarded the contract for carrying it.

A. H. Davis, of Halifax, is spoken of as Democratic candidate for Congress, in this District.

The Reason Why.

It is said that the reason why the lamps are not lit is the storms that occur and blow out the lights, as well as prevent their being at once re-lighted.
The oil now furnished is so poor in quality that it gums up the burners. The citizens will sit down on the committee if they don't do better.

This fine school begins its second Term on Monday. The prospect for a large number of pupils is good. Several have already put in an appearance. This school is noted all over the State, not only by reason of the talent of Judge Strong, but also by his rare gifts as an ins ructor.

For the University. About twenty young gentlemen, the larger number of whom were from the eastern counties of the State, were in the city yesterday, en route to the University. Most of them will enter the Freshman class. The prospects of the University are gratifying to its friends everywhere.

Military Gossip.
The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry celebrated its 85th annivesary last week. Brigadier General M. P. Taylor, of Wilmington, commanding the 2nd Brigade North Carollar State Guard, was present, with some of his staff Compunies B. and C of the 2nd Regiment paraded and held a target practice for prizes. The occasion was leasant to all concerned.

School Examiner.

Capt. Dugger, the examiner for Wake County, will be at the Governor's Mansion every Saturday, between 9 and 3 o'clock, to examine applicants for positions as teachers of Public Schools. Let all interested remember this and not come on any other day. School Committees will please bear this in mind and save disappointment and delay in their school arrangements.

A Suggestion. The plan of leading the sewer pipe from the government building down Fayetteville street, while a good one, may be improved upon. The grade of Fayetteville street is very much higher than that of Wilmington street, and it has been suggested that the drain run down Fayetteville to Davie and then turn into Wilmington. A glance at the levels will show these facts to be Magistrate's Court.

Before Justice Watts, Frank Barnes, a rural negro, was carried yesterday, charged with disturbing the peace by behaving in a disorderly manner. He was fined $5 and costs. He could not out up this sum, and was taken to the court house preparatory to being jailed. He cursed an I swore at a terrible rate, on Fayetteville street. A large crowd gathered, expecting a row, but he was safely landed.

Katie Putuam.

This excellent artiste, supported by a select and talented troupe, will ap-pear on the boards at Metropolitan Hall during Fair week. This bewitchng little actress always charms the people here, and her admirers in this State are numerous. Some excellent plays will be produced, and the occasion will be made delightful. Lovers of the stage will be charmed at this announcement of her appearance.

The Southern Express Company has nstructed its officers to pass free all contributions for the yellow fever sufferers. This allows the transport either of money or provisions. But it is better to send money, as provisions are liable to be stopped on the road and held until damaged. This generous offer earns for the kindly corporation making it the heartiest thanks and appreciation everywhere.

For the Sufferers.

Mayor Manly received yesterday $8.05 from the Mayor of Franklinton, to be sent the yellow fever sufferers. The Mayor sent off $35 yesterday afternoon, for their relief. The colored people are going vigorously to work to raise money for this noble object. In all their churches contributions will be taken up and committees will be appointed to make personal appeals for aid.

Expiration.

The bankrupt act expires by limitation of act of Congress after this day. Petitions can only be filed to-day. delay until "to-morrow" will be fatal to parties who desire to make a fair set-tlement under this act and be relieved of their debts. By the way, would it not be well for the Legislature next winter to pass an act for the relief of debtors similar to that of New York, which is said to be more popular than the bankrupt act?

Sudden Death.

A Travelled Journal. On yesterday, a late copy of the is done in portions of the city in which New Orleans Democrat was thrown affrays often occur, and may be for no from one of the windows of the News office on Martin street. It had hardly rested on the pavement a minute, before a Wilmington street merchant espied it and picked it up, but, upon seeing where the paper was published, dropped it, at the same time using some "hasty theological expressions. It was amusing to see how long that paper "lay around." No one who took it up would carry it more than ten feet. at any rate after the "New Orleans" was seen. It is safe to say that no other paper ever remained on the street for the same length of time. It reached the ground about two o'clock, and, from that time until nearly a quarter past three, it kept going, first up one side of the street and down the other, from Fayetteville to Wilmington streets, by the aforesaid short distances. At last a little darkey, who could not read, captured it and took it out of the view of the writer. What he did with it, is not known, but if persons in other parts of the city, have the same aprehension that was displayed on Martin Street, he will have a hard time ignorant of the fact, it may be stated Morris & Co. that there is no danger at all in handling mail matter from the fever strick en districts, it being always subjected to great heat and afterwards thoroughly fumigated-thus effectually destroying remedy for the ravages of cabbage bugs, that lime and ashes mixed together will by possibility have permeated it. Those Store, Wilmington street, Raleigh, N. effectually distroy them. He has tried who were frightened by the newspaper C. If you buy one you are sure to order it and knows whereof he speaks. The yesterday, will have the consolation, more: owever, of knowing they are not the ashes, mix well together and apply it to ed. A few-days since, all the counting line of sugar, coffee, flour, meal, corn, clerks in the Treasery Department rehad to be called in to do their work.

The Graded School.

This school opens next Monday, with good prospects of a large enrollment. The want of desks will necessitate a imited number, and the Principal, acting under orders from the School Commissioners, can take no larger number than can be seated. Will not some good citizens, and especially those who send children to the schools, aid Capt. Dugger in supplying the needed seat? Remember this when you enroll your children and give Capt. Dugger the means to have comfortable seats for your childen.

Found His Match. While J. C. S. Lumsden, Esq., was in the rear portion of his store on Fayetteville street, yesterday, he saw a negro boy run in and seize a large box of matches from the counter in front. He pursued the thief and captured him in a store near by. The boy, whose name is Claude Young, aged about fourteen years, said he was just taking the matches to his father, to see if he liked them. He was locked up in the guard house, to await his trial.

A Tried Remedy for Billousness Those who suffer from disorder or inaction of the liver will never get the upper hand of the unruly organ so long as they use such ir ational remedies as blue pill, calomel and podophyllin. But from the tried and popular medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they may expect relief with a certainty of obtaining it. The influence of the bitters upon the great biliary gland is direct, powerful and speedily felt. The relief afforded is not spasmodie, but complete and permanent. The sallowness of the skin, turred appearance of the tongue, indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, pains through the right side and shoulder, in fact every accompanyment of the obstinate complaint are entirely and promptly removed by a course of this inestimable medicine, in behalf of which testimony is constantly emanating from every quarter and from all classes of society.

AFTER the birth of my babe, one of my limbs became fearfully swollen. Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia, after all the K. Brown remedies failed, effected a rapid cure.
